

MEMPHIS APPEAL

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY.
MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 2, 1871.

RAILROAD CHARITY.

The public is quick to find fault and censure a railroad, but slow to give them credit for their benevolence. If an accident occurs which no human effort could anticipate or prevent, against a railroad, and the railroad is shown to be the cause, the public is quick to find fault and censure a railroad, but slow to give them credit for their benevolence. If an accident occurs which no human effort could anticipate or prevent, against a railroad, and the railroad is shown to be the cause, the public is quick to find fault and censure a railroad, but slow to give them credit for their benevolence.

Why should railroads give half fare to students any more than a baker's association should do for the poor? The railroads are not doing it for the poor, but for the students. Why should railroads give half fare to students any more than a baker's association should do for the poor? The railroads are not doing it for the poor, but for the students.

But few persons are aware of the vast amount of charity which the railroads of the country unostentatiously dispense. City officials, agents of charitable institutions, clergymen and others accustomed to be consulted in regard to appeals of charity can bear testimony to the generosity and benevolence of railroads. A deserved appeal is never made in vain. In a conversation a few days since with C. L. Anderson, the popular Superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, on this subject, he informed us that the public had but little idea of the immense amount of charity which the railroads bestowed upon the distressed. The same statements are pertinent to the conduct of General Boyd, Mr. Livermore and Mr. Young, who have been so long and so uniformly generous and liberal, highly cultivated and thoroughly well bred. The magnitude of the business they are engaged in gives them large and comprehensive views. There is nothing mean or niggardly about them. They are brought in contact with all sorts of people, they understand the world and have learned to sympathize with the distressed, which they favor more than all other organizations combined.

A DIVING ROD or "water-wheel" tells an old gentleman of East Tennessee, at Bull's Gap, that three hundred feet below the earth's surface, there flows a stream as large as the Holston, and more strongly impregnated with salt than the ocean. A joint-stock company, with $8000 capital will bore a hole of the depth prescribed, and we who believe in diving rods may confidently believe that East Tennessee, like its people, will soon be the salt of the earth.

RADICAL candidates in Mississippi are zealous advocates of county subscriptions to the Grenada, Tombigbee and Eastern railroads. In this single instance they are of service to a state and people remorselessly plundered by Radical thieves.

THE cotton crop in the richest districts of Alabama will not be greater than one-half the usual quantity. A correspondent, who is neither a buyer, seller nor planter, thus writes of it. He has traversed the South in all directions, and estimates the crop at two and a half million bales.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN is said to be bitterly hostile to the corruptionists of New York City, and the Democratic will become the reform party of the State.

THE first section of the Vicksburg and Memphis levee railway is under contract and will be completed in time to receive the cars of $4,000 per mile for the whole road.

HOPE HALL INSTITUTE, A SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND BOYS, PROF. J. T. TOOF, PRINCIPAL, has been removed to the new building at the corner of Third and Main streets, where the next session will begin the first Monday in September, 1871.

KEBLE HALL, Sole Agent for Young Ladies, 125 WASHINGTON STREET, N. E. C. F. NAX, PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, is prepared to receive pupils for the piano, violin, guitar and guitar.

useful results, by placing before him the results accomplished by his fellow-men. The season of fairs for West Tennessee opens at Brownsville, Haywood county, to-morrow. The city of Brownsville is a rising young city noted for its prosperity and the hospitality of its citizens, is making preparations for a large and valuable exhibition, and for a large attendance.

We are assured by a leading and reliable citizen of Brownsville that the prospects for a large and valuable exhibition were never better. The exhibition, in all classes, will be very extensive and superior. The neighborhood and general good feeling which has always subsisted between Memphis and Brownsville, should induce many of our population to visit Brownsville during the week.

We presume the railroad will convey visitors to the fair at half fare. We trust that Memphis during the week will honor herself by pouring many of her teeming thousands into Brownsville, where they will be received by a cordial and hospitable people, and witness a fair which will be a source of pride and satisfaction. The people of Brownsville with open arms cordially invite us to come and see fine horses, cattle, sheep and swine; to see various and many improvements in mechanical and domestic science; to see the products of their rich soil, of their manufactures; to see thousands of the "fair women and brave men" of Haywood; to hear excellent music; to witness the progress of a grand, beautiful and gay sister; and to have a good time generally. We earnestly hope a mighty multitude of people will attend the Brownsville fair, which commences to-morrow, and that the occasion will be brilliant and one of unalloyed pleasure and joy.

EXCESSIVE taxation imposed by Radical adventurers in Texas has driven German emigration from that State by their outrageous exactions. In Tennessee it is proposed to establish a bureau of immigration, and the press and public mind are being agitated in regard to the proposed immigration of German emigrants from that State by their outrageous exactions. In Tennessee it is proposed to establish a bureau of immigration, and the press and public mind are being agitated in regard to the proposed immigration of German emigrants from that State by their outrageous exactions.

THE Democrats of California having now a majority in both branches of the Legislature, will have a called session, and deprive the Radicals of a vast deal of public patronage. The Senate elected is still Democratic, and the measures adopted by the called session cannot be opposed by the Radical House. The outgoing party lies in the hands of the incoming, and the treasury may be bled in the selfishness of party leaders. Our Tennessee lawgivers will do their duty, no doubt, in handicuffing for a time the bondholders' ring.
